new additions for 2000

changes this year

The newest and most controversial addition to our school is the fence. It surrounds the entire campus and stays locked throughout the day. Most students do not appreciate with the fence and have found it to be irratating and inconvient while others feel that it causes no apparent problems. The original intent was to set up a fence that would prevent vandalism but recent incidents have shown it to be ineffective. Whether or not the fence is effective, it is the most apparent change this year.

The Alameda High School sign stands proud behind the black fence.

The plain black fence sits and waits for vandalists to attack.

One of the more minor changes has been the new grading scale. The new grading scale consists of a six block rubric which grades on two distinct factors which are conventions and rhetoric. Every paper turned in is returned with fraction grade followed by a letter grade. This makes grading for teachers a bit more difficult since the teachers always must be percise. Unfortunately this makes passing certain classes far more difficult since the criteria by which they used to be graded on has been expanded.

Are you for or against the new grading policy?

Teachers:

Students:

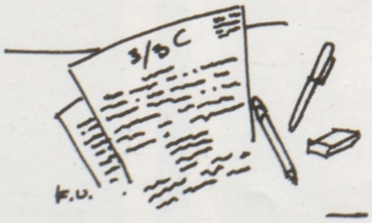
The pole shows that the majority of the 40 people surveyed are not for the new grading policy.



How do you feel about the fence?

"The fence shows how low the school has gone." Josh Rosenzweig and Nate Ghera

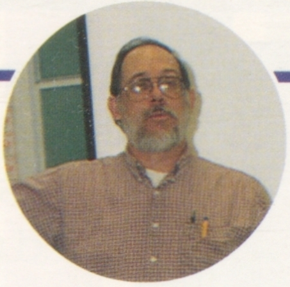
The fence is inconvienent because it's hardly ever open." Kacie Piro and Megan Babin

"I don't really like it."
Cody Blakely

What do the new teachers think about Alameda High School?

"I like the fact that there are many driven students at Alameda High and that the campus is diverse."
Ms. Castro, Science Teacher

"I like the fact that it's warmer here."
Ms. Brown, Gym Teacher



"Alameda High School is very close and convienent."
Mr. Lynch, Science Teacher

"It's fine here."
Ms. Barclay, English Teacher

"What I enjoy most about spending time at Alameda High School is making friends with new faces and meeting wonderful colleagues."
Mr. Rusty Howell, Dean of Attendence

"I would have to say that the students are the best part about Alameda High. Of course!"
Mr. Rollins, Vice Principal

"I like the students, teachers, and staff. I also enjoy the commute."
Mr. VanNorman, Science Teacher

"The staff is committed and there are great students."
Mr. Franks, Algebra Teacher

"I like how the students are well-rounded and involved. The staff is supportive and the teachers are strong."
Ms. Gregor, English Teacher

"I enjoy working with the talented students."
Ms. Yumae, Band Teacher

"I like the high standards for the students and how diverse the students are." Mr. Quezada, Government Teacher

"I like the diversity of the students. There is a good teaching staff."

spirit week and halloween

Many people dressed up for spirit week this year. On Monday the classes dressed up in their class colors and on Tuesday students dressed up warm for winter day. Wednesday was mix 'n match day and the following day was crazy hair day. Spirit week was finished up on Friday with Gold and White day.

Linda Nguyen shows AHS spirit in her gold and white oufit.

Ana Gimlen and Carly VanOrsdel pose for the camera in their wacky oufits on mix 'n match day.

Lindsay Desourdy and Lauren Atchison show their school spirit dressing up for crazy hair day.

Heather Castillo, Mike Stolleger and Teresa McNary show off their Sophmore spirit in bright orange.

Monique Parras, Blanca Cardenas, and Crystal Mendoza brighten up the school in their wigs for halloween.

Jessica Burgo and Farnoush Ansari show their wild sides as cavewomen on Halloween.

Camielle Kelley "magically" opens her locker.

Adrian Carpenter has disco fever on Halloween. Shades of the 70's.

Jennifer Bickley and a child from Careers with Children go trick-or-treating.

why girls go in groups secrets behind the closed doors revealed

We're finally letting the cat out of the bag. Girls don't leave the table in groups to go to bathroom because we're silly (although we know you guys think so). The truth is that behind that tacky door lies a world that the male gender never dreamed of. Should Fabio bring me a latte? Or should Jean-Luc give me a foot massage? No wonder we take our time in there!

answer the question, please!

what do they do in there?

Cody Blakely-

"I think that they fix their make-up and gossip about guys."

Daren Chan-

"In the bathroom I'm sure there is a lot of talking, and little actually going to the bathroom."

Mike Gajda-

"Uhhhh........ ....tinkle?"

Ricky Turner-

"They go in the bathroom to play with their make-up."

Steve Saechao-

"I think they go in there to change their, you know... socks!"

Just like a store..........

3

Community service is a physical activity that demonstrates involvement and dedication to your community. Many good examples of community service that students have participated in include Student Advisory Board of Education (SABE), spring clean up, volunteer work at the Water's Edge Retirement Home and countless others. At least 20 hours of community service are required to graduate from Alameda High School and with so many options it can be an educational and rewarding experience.

mornings

The students at Alameda High School know what it's like to dread the morning light. Mornings at A.H.S are relaxed. Students hangout in front of the school, on campus in the hallways chatting with fellow classmates or finishing the last minute homework they didn't finish the night before. Let's not forget the hangouts for breakfast: Jack-n-the-Box, McDonalds and Burger King are the top choices. When the 8:00 bell rings the school day begins. For some it has began at 7:00 when the 0 period bell rang, for classes such as: Current Life, Drivers Ed, P.E., and Advanced Band.

Freshman Cody Blakely looks tired this morning, but interested in what's in his locker. So what is in there?

- The Year 2000 has finally arrived after months of wondering about and preparing for Y2K. What happened? NOTHING! There wasn't even a flicker of the lights; all of the excitement and worrying was over nothing. Even though nothing of mention happened on New Year's, this year is very important.
- Not only are we starting a new millennium, we're having the presidential election. This has the possibility to change our entire future. Al Gore and George Bush are the front runners over candidates Bill Bradley and John McCain.
- For the first time in history a First Lady, Hillary Clinton, is running for office, seeking a Senate seat for New York.
- Many new trends started this year. Women's sports took off, becoming more popular than ever before. The Women's World Cup and the WNBA showed the world that women have a future in team sports.
- Along with all of the good there is some bad. We said good by to many people this year: Payne Stewrt, and John F. Kennedy both died young in plane crashes, and the number of school shooting is rising.
- We also watched as NBA, and NHL superstars, Michael Jordan and Wayne Gretzky retired.
- There were also many important changes this year at Alameda High. The most noticeable and controversial change at Alameda High was the fence, but there are many changes that are not as widely known. This year many students, parents, and teachers volunteered their time to wire the school to the Internet. Others worked on a grant for Digital High School (DHS), a grant that would bring more technology to our school.

Senior

High school happens once in a life time. For the class of 2000, the past four years have been memorable and exciting. The orange lockers and the crowded hallways have become familiar sights. The class of 2000 has always been on the cutting edge. Whether it has been homecoming floats, class competitions, or just plain spirit, the class of 2000 has shared a united identity. Through the laughter, tears, and friendship, these four years became a stepping stone for seniors to grow, while preparing themj to break through into new challenges.

to the class of 2000...

Throughout the past four years, we have grown to love and hate one another, but as our graduation date approaches we realize it should not matter. There is an enormous world that is waiting for us to enter, and it does not know who stole whose boyfriend or girlfriend. For the past twelve years we have prepared for this wonderful day to arrive. The time has finally come for us to enter the world and start a new life. Though times have been wild and lessons have been helpful, they were all just stepping stones to graduation. After this year, the decisions will be ours. Mom and Dad have helped us this far, and now it is time to show them what we have learned in return. Congratulations to the class of 2000, it is now time to find your place in the world.

students, but ended the year as something other then a face in the crowd. Together and separately, these

1) Look what he can do! David Nefield knows how to stand out in the crowd. 2) Now I know you're breaking some rules, Bryan Krause. Better get going before Mr. Johnson finds you. 3) The proud principal of Alameda High School, Mr. Johnson takes a ride in the parade with his daughter Megan in his arms. Ms. Wong and her daughter Chloe Herrera gallantly chauffeur them. 4) Never stopping his work, Ivan Hong quickly scribbles down a few notes before the bell rings. 5) A favored face on campus, Ms. Sydow helps out the students with their beloved pass time...EATING!! 6) Doug Cheung makes a quick trip to his teacher's desk to make sure he gets all his work. 7) Joey Katich, Rachel Thar, and Fedaunte Tuite show that the students of Alameda High are always happy to help each other out. 8) Juniors Jenny Komar, Juliana Wong, and Yanni Leung prepare for a busy lunch during Harvest Food Fair. 9) Standing pretty for the camera, Daniel Barnhart, Anne Barbera, and Paris Clark take a break from their lessons in Life Skills.

Freshmen Year is a year full of new experiences. It's the beginning of four long, work-filled years. This is the time to learn your place for the following years at A.H.S. But let's not forget the good times we had- the dances, the parties and just the all around fun.

Senior Life Skills

The students in the Senior Life Skills class spend their day shopping for and preparing their lunches, going to the library, and visiting the YMCA. By doing these and other practical and, most importantly, fun, activities, the students in room 401 learn great skills for life. Most obvious of these is the student store, open during the school's break. Providing muffins, drinks, and chips to fellow students and teachers to keep them going during the grueling day, these bright leaders of the future also learn math and social skills necessary for everyday life. But its not all work and no play. They'll find any excuse to have a party. Attending school activities, including dances and sports events, the students of the Senior Life Skills class will go where ever fun will follow.

Standing behind the pedestal, walking the hallways, and showing the way for the students, are the faculty and staff of AHS. They teach us, help us, and inspire us. Without them, we would not have the great gift of knowledge. Although we do not always show it, the students of AHS greatly appreciate the benevolence that these hard-working people show us. They are definitely leaving their mark on our lives.

THE LAST VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM OF THE CENTURY

As the football team started working out over the summer, things were looking good. The team gathered everyday at the weight room and Thompson Field to prepare themselves for the upcoming season. When school started things began to look bad for the Hornets. The School Board denied Alameda High the ability to put lights at Thompson Field. As the season progressed, the Hornets found themselves in a very tough league. This was an emotional season, playing in games that were extremely close. The heart of the Hornet came out during the last game of the season: Under certain circumstances, only 13 players were eligible to participate. The Hornets dominated the game, but within the last second of the game the Hornets' defense couldn't hold Kennedy's potent offense, causing a 26-20 loss.

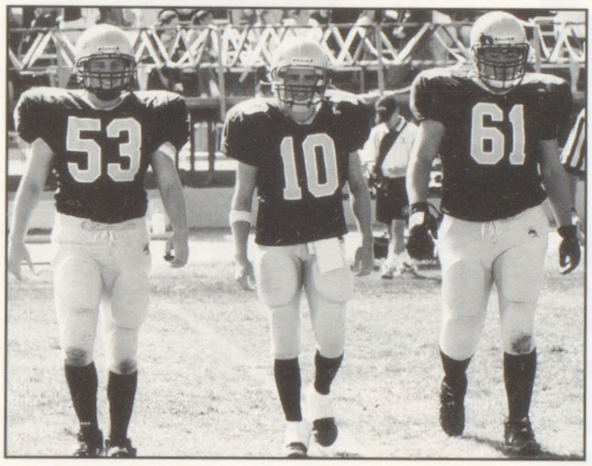
The Hornets take a moment before the homecoming game to pay their respects to Encinal High's Varsity assiantant coach, Jeff Stewart, and Mr. Cepparo who had both recently passed away.

Out of the 'L' formation, the Hornets plan on making another successful run.

The Hornets' punter, Alex Rosko, concentrates on the ball just before he punts it away.

Quarterback, Steve Pagones, scrambles away from the opposing team's linemen.

Above: Robert Domholt flashes down the field while being pursued. Right: Team captains Kemp Moyer, Steve Pagones and Nick Tomimatsu march to the middle of the field to win the coin toss.



Kevin Lew glances up as he prepares to return a kick for good yardage.

men's waterpolo

The men's waterpolo team had an exciting season. They defeated Encinal High 17-1 in the regular season and went on to the League Championship Tournament in first place. They defeated De Anza High in the first round 16-8. They then played Piedmont High for the championship. The boys played a great game even when they were a man down for the last four and a half minutes. They won the game 8-6. This sent them to North Coast where they battled Marin Catholic.

women's waterpolo

This season the women's waterpolo team had a lot to learn. After half of the team graduated last year, the new group needed to learn to play as a unit. "I'm really proud of how the team has improved this season, and if we continue to work together we will be really good in years to come," said team co-captain Meghan Colghan, when asked her feelings about the season. Co-captain Shelley Mills said, "Besides the fact that I'm really proud of the team, I think it's really neat that we are starting a legacy at Alameda High School. I'm happy that I got to play on the women's waterpolo team, and help establish the program. I'm really looking forward to seeing how the team does in the future."

Lay-ing The Smack Down!

Women's Tennis

The women's tennis team has had a very succesful season. They won the league title by winning the "big game" against Piedmont 5-2. This sent the Hornets to North Coast as the the #1 seed. Team members Laura Hathaway and Megan Falcon won first place in doubles making it to the semi-finals, and Lisa Hathaway and Valerie Surh won second place in doubles making it to the quarter finals. The women's tennis team has done a great job this year with Coach Sandy Kiyomura and Coach Les White. Les White has been coaching the women's tennis team for many years now. Sandy Kiyomura, one of our counselers of Alameda High, has just started coaching this year.

women's swimming

The women's swim team this year has made a fast race to the finish. They worked hard and strived to be the best team once again in the Alameda Contra Costa Athletic League. Lots of sweat, dedication, and perseverance have lead them up and down the swim lanes again and again. Hakim worked hard on getting the team into the mind set of winning. He gave the girls many words of wisdom. One day before a meet, he explained that not only should the AHS women's swim team beat the other teams, the other teams should be asking themselves, "why did we even show up?!" Overall, the team worked on attendance, team spirit, and making sure every point counts during the meets. It was a great year of learning about one another, and realizing that winning means working together.

men's swimming

This year's men swimming team was very successful. The season went very well. Even though they lost to Encinal, they kept up the good work and won the rest of their league matches. They strived to be the best and worked well as a team. Mr. Rodd coached enthusiastically. The freshmen who were just starting learned what it was like to be on a high school swim team. They definitely proved themselves well and competed great. As for the returning members of the team, they competed another great season swimming their best. We hope to see another successful swim team next year.

run-ning the extra mile track and field

Track and field is a sport that requires great endurance, strength, and swiftness. Dedication and success go hand in hand for any sport, especially track and field. Whereas other sports are games in which athletes compete against each other, track and fielders take the ultimate challenge by competing against themselves. Every meet is a chance for athletes to increase their skills and achieve their personal best. Although these young men and women compete against themselves, there is a feeling of togetherness amongst them. They put their hearts and souls into the sport, practicing every day, striving to be the best.

behind sports

Expect the unexpected when you sign up and try out for a sport at Alameda High School. A huge amount of preparation, support, determination, and skill goes into the creation of a successful team. Overall, sports allow the students to gain confidence and responsibility. Sports are great extra-curricular activities to have in a learning atmosphere. You'll see that it's not all about kicking or throwing a ball and running until you lose your breath. Behind the scenes, students commit to a productive and meaningful way to spend their time. Since there is a wide range of sports at Alameda High, more and more students get involved with them. Before and After the games, coaches and players put their efforts into having a rewarding year.

> Journalism is like working in real life.
> -Greg Orzell

The Oak Leaf staff strove to keep students of Alameda High informed with interesting articles, school and community events, opinion pieces, reviews, and updates on sports. Ms. Piazza was brave enough to take over Ms. Jones' position of being the advisor of The Oak Leaf. Her job was complicated by the administration collapsing the two journalism classes into one undifferentiated group.

Journalism students learned responsibility and time management skills. They had to meet nine stressful deadlines, often staying at school until ten o'clock at night. Putting the issues together was a team effort. All of the students combined their creative skills to produce The Oak Leaf. Looking back at this year's newspapers, all of the time and work was worth it.

Senior Sasha Talcott reflected on her past year as Editor-in-Chief. "Journalism. How do I love thee? Let me count the ways. It provides constant stress, deadline pressure, long hours, and the wrath of those who don't like the paper. But it also is absolutely the best thing I could have done in four years. It has taught me how to write, edit and work with people, and given me a chance to get to know a diverse and interesting group of students."

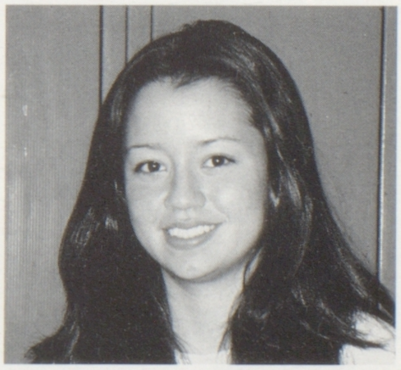
> Journalism teaches you leadership skills and team work. It's a collective team effort that has many rewards.
> -Eric Tom

> I like being in The Oak Leaf because I get to express my thoughts to the whole school. I like being the one to let the school know what's going on.
> -Molly Russell



> It's a ton of fun being involved with the newspaper. It is important for the Oak Leaf to inform the students of what is happening throughout the school.

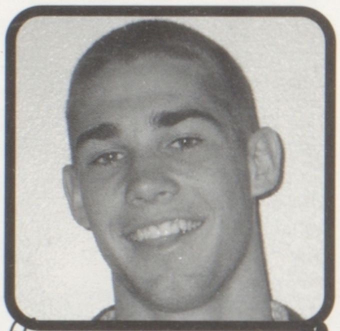
who says learning can't be fun?



Travis Adragna

Autoshop is a class where you not only learn about cars but you also have lots of fun.

AdamTeixeira concentrates on his work in the media center.

For Vanessa Perez shelving is a breeze in Library/ Reference Skills she has the smile to prove it.

Heidi Hayame

Being a Counseling aide is fun because I get to go around the campus and meet a lot of people. I also don't have to do any hard work.

Nathen Fleming practices his salesmenship by selling Virgil Remorca cookies in Entrepreneurship.

Thomas Ide

Drafting is a fun class. I like it because it prepares so that one day I can become an architect.

John Castillo, attendance office aide, fills out an excuse slip, be careful don't mess up!

Miya Rusting and Taylor Kendall contemplate their next detail on their sketches in Art.

Jack Pearl and Amir Amiri practice perfect painting strokes in Theater Tech.

Luis Licea and Christina Phelps draw a decorative sign to paste on the wall of the Hive so it can catch the students' eyes.

Andy Pham and Esther Essoudry get ready to open up the Hive at break time for hungry students to come and enjoy a great snack while they listen to music.

Malick Hassel, Jack Pearl, Amir Amiri, Louie Licea, Giana Lupo, Yonnie Petropoulos, C.A. Ibanez, Kevin Hermanson take a break from the hard work of creating beautiful sets in Theater Tech.

That's nice, Christina Reyes gives some drawing pointers to Genie Tran.

Nicole Chong tries to set a new typing record for most words per minute in Keyboarding.

Pick up the attendence Eric Corpuz, or you'll have a lot of people on your back!

When the students of Alameda High aren't in class or showing off in sports, they are working hard to improve the school

and our community.
There are clubs to fit
anyone's interests,
like the Afghan Club,

the B.S.U, Latinos Unidos, and the Reality Club. These clubs help unite students with similar interests and lifestyles as well as bond all students involved when all the clubs get together for school activities.

"Ahh"...x3

"Though I'm missing you...I'll find a way to get through...Living without you...'Cause you were my sister, my strength, and my pride...Only God may know why, still I will get by. I would've known, that you had to go...But so suddenly, so bad...How could it be, a straight memory worthy of...All that we had made...Now that you're gone, everyday I go on...But life's just the same...I'm so empty inside, and my tears I can't hide...But I'll try to face the pain. There were so many things that we could have shared...And time was on our side...Now that you're gone, I can still feel you near...So I'll smile, with every tear I cry. How sweet, were the losses to spare? But I'll wait for the day...When I'll see you again..."

I'll be missing you.

How do I say goodbye to what we had? The good times that made us laugh Outweigh the bad. I thought we'd get to see forever But forever's gone away It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday. I don't know where this road is going to lead. All I know is where we've been and what we've been through. If we get to see tomorrow I hope it's worth all the wait It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday And I'll take with me the memories To be my sunshine after the rain. It's so hard, to say Good-bye to yesterday. And I'll take, with me the memories, to be my sunshine after the rain. It's so hard, to say Good-bye

~ Understanding is the soil in which grow all the fruits of friendship ~

YuYan, if there's one thing I gained these past two years, it's an extra sister. Thanks for always lending a hand or an ear when I needed it most. It means a lot to me. You know, I'm gonna miss your constant teasing, whining, and nonstop mood swings when we're off to college...haha, I'm kidding. For real though, I'm gonna miss having a pal around who knows me inside and out. Love ya girl, Shirley.

Shirley, we've been through a lot already but this is just the beginning. All those times i needed some 1, u didnt hesitate 2 be there 4 me. (hopefully we wont hafta go through "jr yr" again) Yer an angel sent 4m above 2 watch 'n' guild this baby sister :P 831 gurl 'n' i dont know where i'd be w/out ya. 500 ~Y

CONGRADULATIONS

Alright guys, this time it's really good-bye. I can't believe how fast our time together has passed. Though through the years we have drifted apart...Joey, Colleen, Nick... I still love you. Though we have had out differences.. Beckah, Ginger, Jon... I still love you. Though you are leaving me behind... Catlin, Ken, Ashleigh, Carl... I still love you. I hope that everything you do, you do wonderfully and know that you are taking a part of me with you.

I LOVE YOU AND I'LL MISS YOU

What a great Yearbook year! We had brand new, faster, smarter computers which we purchased out of our own operating funds in order to run more sophisticated software and produce even better books. This year's staff was amazing--a focused, creative, dedicated and fun group who took full advantage of the new computers' abilities. They took learning about page layout, graphic design, fonts, copy and caption writing, photography, copyright law and deadlines with zest and put together this polished, professional-looking book. My special thanks to all the editors, particularly Laura and Jamie, for their extremely hard work. We hope this book will be memorable for the next 1000 years.

Judith Klinger

Congratulations to this year's staff, you have adjusted well to the pressure of the deadlines and have worked as a team, helping each other finish pages. I hope you choose to return next year with more new ideas to create a more magnificant book. To the returning staff, you not only have helped train and hold together the new members but have adjusted to new computers and software while turning out some of the best pages you ever did. Catlin, Ken, Carl, Jessica I wish you the best of luck next year and thank you for all your hard work you've put in over the past two years. Each of your sections and pages have come out terrifically and you have much to be proud of. Ms. Klinger, once again you have succeeded in choosing staff equal to the tasks presented them and I thank you for the past three years. Jamie, this year has been tough and hectic, but this book is something to be proud of. I wish you and Ashley the best of luck next year.

Laura Byington

This first year as Editor-in-Chief of our hard working yearbook staff has been a wonderfully challenging one. We ran into a few problems and stayed a few extra hours, but in the end we got it all done. To the seniors in this years staff, Ken, Carl, Jessica, Catlin, I will miss working with all of you. Everyone of our staffers, returning or new, have left a lasting impression with me. Thank you all for creating such an awesome book and special thanks to our Tech amanuensis, Bruce Wong, for his tireless hours of answering all our questions. Lastly, thank you Ms. Klinger for helping Laura and me fumble through out first year as Editor-in-Chief. I'll miss all of you staffers who wont be returning to us next year and I welcome those who will come back with fresh ideas so that next years book can be even better. Good Luck c/o 2000. Remember Catlin, the world is in your hands now!
